LIBERTY LIFE

DRIVE FAST FORGES AHEAD

The State-wide Million Dollar Anniversary Campaign which was launched by the Liberty Life Insurance Company, in honor of its first anniversary, is forging ahead at a rapid rate. This campaign is intended to have an educational value for the public, as well as providing them with adequate protection. Even though the prospect is not sold, he will become aware of the benefits to be derived from insurance, and also of the fact that there is an Old Line Legal Reserve Life Insurance Company owned and operated entirely by men of his own race. The dual purpose of the campaign is being carried out in a manner that argues well for success.

The agents throughout the state are vying with one another in their effort to contribute the largest amount of business toward the million dollar goal set for August 19. Messrs. J. M. Weil and J. W. Weil, who are working in the southern part of the state, are contenders for the honors, if their work on June 17 is considered a criterion. On that day these two agents sent in to the home office $78,500 of insurance. This, they say, is just a testimonial to the fact that they know what the company wants at the home office and they are out to get it.

The other agents of the company are sending in business at a rate that keeps the policy department humming. The enterprise is a commendable one, and the interest manifested on the part of the public speaks well for the manner in which the race regards this organization.

THIBODEAUX IS NOT OWNED BY A BLACK MAN

Since the running of the Latonia special Derby we have had numerous calls concerning the ownership of the horse that ran second and beat Morvich. Now for the benefit of those concerned we offer the following:

Thibodeaux, the winner of the Latonia Derby, is a chestnut colt, by Cunard, dam Electro, by Electioneer, and runs in the name of W. Perkins & Company. The real owner of Thibodeaux is Alfred Vogeler, Cincinnati wholesale druggist, who bought the colt in the spring from W. L. Lewis, paying $10,000 for him, with an additional $5,000 if Thibodeaux won the Latonia Derby. So Will Lewis is enriched by $5,000. This is not the first horse that Vogeler has owned. He has been interested in horses for more than twenty years, being a partner of the late Jake and John Marklein when they ran horses in their own names. Vogeler is of a retiring disposition and has never been in the limelight in his turf operations. He purchased the colt in the spring, engaged Perkins to train him and gave Perkins a contingent interest in the horse for his efforts. When Thibodeaux ran a good second to Whiskaway last Saturday in the Kentucky Special, several efforts were made to purchase the colt, but Vogeler turned a deaf ear to all of them. Kay Spence asked Perkins to put a price on the colt and Perkins sought out Mr. Vogeler. Vogeler told him that the colt was not for sale and that he hoped that Spence would not offer him $50,000 for the colt. That is where the $50,000 offer story came from.

Soap Manufacturer Does Big Business on the South Side

James S. Kirk & Company, located at Michigan Avenue Bridge, was established in 1839, and the name of Kirk & Company at this location is a land mark in Chicago. While their new and very extensive plant on North Avenue and the river shows the progress that this firm has made in their manufacturing operations. Always holding up the quality of their products and the service of their institution has caused the name of Kirk &

Company to be known in every household. Coco Hardwater for the bath, Kirk's Olive "The Health Glow Soap," made of rare mild oils delightfully perfumed, and is very effective in soothing and cleansing the skin.

Well advertised on South Side

Kirk & Company believe in telling the world the value of their products giving the merchant every assistance with beautiful window displays and backing them up with advertising through The Tribune, News, Whip, American and Elevated Service. The Whip is now carrying advertising on "Kirk's Olive." "The Health Glow Soap," made of rare mild oils delightfully perfumed, and is very effective in soothing and cleansing the skin.

Appreciate Patronage

Kirk & Company wish to express through the columns of The Whip their appreciation of the past support of their brands by our people and we in return are glad to reciprocate by wishing them continued success and splendid results on their "Kirk Olive" campaign.
